VCTC INVITES PUBLIC TO TAKE SURVEY ON FUTURE OF TRANSPORTATION

CAMARILLO, Calif. – The Ventura County Transportation Commission (VCTC) is seeking community input to help to plan the future of transportation in Ventura County.

Ventura County residents are invited to participate in the update of VCTC's Comprehensive Transportation Plan (CTP) by filling out an online, map-based survey and signing up to receive information about the project.

The Comprehensive Transportation Plan is a document that will plan for transportation in Ventura County over the next 30 years. The CTP will look at various modes of transportation and mobility, including walking, biking, driving, public transit, airports and more.

Whether it's greater access to public transit, protected bike lanes on roadways, or more places to cross the street safely, VCTC wants to know what community members think will make traveling in Ventura County safer, greener and equitable to all.

VCTC and a team of consultants kicked off the CTP update in September 2021 by meeting with key stakeholders representing business, agriculture, cities, housing and more. Later this year, the project team will be visiting community events to connect with Ventura County residents and gather input.

For more information, visit the Comprehensive Transportation Plan website at <https://www.goventura.org/vc-county-comprehensive-transportation-plan/>, or send an email to CTPUpdate@goventura.org.
